

Ms. Patricia Davidson is the District Director for the Albuquerque District Office of the Wage and Hour Division of the U.S. Department of Labor. The Wage and Hour Division has enforcement responsibility for a variety of Employment Laws including the Fair Labor Standards Act and the Family and Medical Leave Act.

Ms. Davidson has worked with the Wage and Hour Division since 1987. She began her career as an Investigator in the Dallas, TX District Office, where she worked for six years. She spent four years working in the Dallas Regional Office as the Director for Special Enforcement. Ms. Davidson then moved to Little Rock, AR to serve as the Director of Enforcement for the Little Rock District. The Little Rock District covered both the states of Arkansas and Oklahoma. Ms. Davidson served as the Acting District Director there for eighteen months. She has been the District Director in Albuquerque, NM since May 9, 1999. The Albuquerque District encompasses all of New Mexico and sixty-eight counties in Texas. Ms. Davidson oversees all the operations for the Division.

Since moving to Albuquerque, Ms. Davidson has been an active participant in the Albuquerque-Santa Fe FEB. In 2000, she participated in the Strategic Planning for fiscal year 2001. Ms. Davidson was a member of the three person team that designed and administered the first Leadership Development training program. Most recently, Ms. Davidson served as co-chair elect in 2004.

Ms. Davidson lives in Albuquerque with her husband, Larry and their two children, Richard and Lauren. The Davidson's share their home with Rocky and Lilly, two canine refugees from the east side animal shelter.
